provided the Planning Board with an overview of the discussions and processes of updating the Unified Zoning Code. She stated in April, Staff presented the “kick off” of the Unified Zoning Code update project to the Board of County Commissioners and the City Council; and explained the need to mechanically separate the City and County codes for the purpose of working through them and dealing with the amendment. City Council wished to ensure that areas that may overlap between the City and County will not be lost in an oversight. The Planning Board had expressed interest in establishing an oversight committee for this purpose and both the City council and the Board of County Commissioners are in agreement with this offer. Staff will seek outside help from a consultant to get expertise and provide perspectives from outside communities. The RFQ will establish the contract and time period needed for this project. Staff is suggesting extending the project funding as a 2-year fiscal process, ranging from $60,000-$120,000. The Planning Division has $35,000 available per fiscal year through the obligated reserve process. City Council and the Board of County Commissioners has Staff’s request for the additional funding needed, and their responses will come following culmination of their respective budget processes. Both governing bodies are in favor with starting this project. Zoning Coordinator Cromwell said the Planning Board will be asked to initiate a zoning text amendment. The goal is to update the Zoning Code to agree with the adopted 2014 Growth Policy. She explained she has worked through drafts of the City and County codes, which is purely a procedural process managed by staff. The consultant will assist the Steering Committee in writing the code in a clear manner for public consumption. Staff will note best practices from other communities. The current code is 450 pages and staff is hoping for a significant reduction to make it user friendly. The zoning districts will be compared to actual land uses on the ground. The consultant will work towards providing a community outreach piece that will include social media and online options. The reunification process can be started when the agreement is received from the Planning Board and the Steering Committee members are appointed, (having a proposed 8-15 members).

President Tunnicliff commented on the importance of establishing a project timeline with some latitude for flexibility to ensure the project reaches completion. He asked about the proposed subcommittees to review landscaping and signage codes. Nicole explained that Staff will bring suggestions to the Steering Committee for members to work on subcommittees to focus on these sections. Discussion followed on the benefit of having a user friendly code to allow more options and more choices for uses in neighborhoods. Ms. Cromwell said the thought is to keep an open mind and let the processes create the result. Board member Cook commented on the need for a masterplan for the area going westward to Laurel. Board member Klugman noted opportunities to leverage additional funding for this project, such as the Big Sky Trust Fund. Board members commented on the importance of having the governing bodies’ financial commitment to the process.

Wyeth Friday said staff will prepare to propose initiation of the separation of the code at the June 13, 2017 Planning Board meeting, and said a tentative schedule outline with a definitive ending will be provided.

Board member Boucher stated he feels this process is long overdue as there are conflicts in the code. He said in general, he has received positive feedback. Board member Cook said the key to success in this type of project is the approach. Board member Klugman said this is an opportunity to educate and inform, and update the code to today’s standards. He stated he fully supports this project. Board member Woods concurred and said things have changed in the community in the last 45 years. He said the zoning process needs to be understandable instead of having to be interpreted. Board member Cook suggested using a map to overlay the area from the Interstate to Laurel as a public education piece. The Board also suggested using bullet points to point out why this process is needed. Wyeth Friday commented on the funding piece for the MPO, and Board member Cook commented on the importance of having a City/County Planning Board instead of separate entities. President Tunncliff applauded Wyeth Friday and Nicole Cromwell for their professionalism in taking the intuitive for this project. Board member Klugman noted Kolten Knatterud, Branch Manager, Territorial Land Works, expressed interest in participating as a Steering Committee member.

- B. Apple iPad Training Session: Touch ID, Bookmarks, pdf reader, Agenda Quick meeting packets: Damon Combs, Tammy Deines, and Wyeth Friday aided the Planning Board members to complete these tasks.
