

The statute does not define a "structure affixed to the ground", and there is no AG Opinion or court decision concerning this statute. According to the Merriam-Webster Dictionary, the definition of a "structure" is as follows: "something built as a dwelling, shelter, or place for human activity." If this definition is applied, a fence is an obstruction that may be ordered by commissioner's court to be moved.

Jim Allison

Chief General Counsel

Texas Association of Counties