Burnet County Commissioners Court
February 11, 2025

Good morning, Commissioners.

My name is Claire Nybro, and I am a voter, taxpayer, and interested person.

Burnet County needs committed, effective, transparent, and steady leadership now more than ever. We need a forward-thinking leader committed to skillful management over the long haul.

I recommend that Chief Deputy Alan Trevino be appointed County Judge.

Chief Trevino is aware of the county's challenges and is ready to lead immediately to ensure no lag time, as he is already up to speed. His readiness to make an immediate impact is a testament to his preparedness for the role.

Chief Trevino is well acquainted with and deeply understands the budget process. He has managed the Sheriff's Office budget for the last two years, accounting for almost half the county's annual budget. He has an affinity for numbers and all things budget and a keen eye for detail. Again, he is poised to hit the ground running, ensuring our financial management will be in good hands.

Chief Trevino already has professional relationships with elected officials, department heads, and county employees. He is well respected and has a sterling reputation. He also has excellent people skills and a collegial and genuine disposition.

Chief Trevino's strategic vision extends beyond immediate challenges. He recognizes the need for both short-term and long-term plans to manage growth and infrastructure challenges in Burnet County. His intention to seek input and collaboration from neighboring counties demonstrates his commitment to building teams and coalitions for our future.

Chief Trevino's law enforcement and emergency management skills will be invaluable as the County Judge. He already has an excellent professional relationship with Sheriff Boyd. Knowing that these two highly competent men will work shoulder-to-shoulder to protect Burnet County citizens is very reassuring if there is ever a real emergency in Burnet County.

Chief Trevino's decision to run for the County Judge seat in 2026 is a huge positive. This declaration demonstrates his commitment to the citizens of Burnet County and his long-term vision for the role. He recognizes our essential need for stable and calm leadership and is qualified and prepared to deliver exactly that on Day One.

Burnet County needs Chief Trevino's unique combination of experience, leadership skills, and commitment. His appointment as County Judge is necessary for the county's progress and prosperity. Chief Deputy Alan Trevino is indeed the right man for the job.
