1. Proclamation – Domestic Violence Awareness Month

MAYOR HARTKE read the proclamation and invited Michael Morris, Commissioner; Katie Cain, Victim Services Senior Program Manager; LaTisha Codkind, Chair; and Beth Brizel, Commissioner to accept.

LATISHA CODKIND, Chair, thanked Mayor Hartke, Vice Mayor Ellis and City Council for their support. Ms. Codkind noted that this year's proclamation focuses on the intersection of technology and domestic violence, which will be highlighted at the upcoming awareness event next Tuesday.

2. Proclamation – Library Card Sign-up Month

MAYOR HARTKE read the proclamation and invited Susan Van Horne, Library Branch Manager; Deborah Moreno, Library Branch Manager; Jo-el Miller, Library Branch Manager; and Tara Anglin, Library Community Engagement Program Manager to accept.

SUSAN VAN HORNE, Library Branch Manager, encouraged community members to visit any library location, noting that a free Chandler library card is available to all Maricopa County residents, not just Chandler residents. She highlighted the upcoming launch of the new mobile library branch this winter. Ms. Van Horne invited the public to celebrate Hispanic Heritage Month this Saturday at the downtown library with the Chandler Contigo event from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., promising a fun experience for all.

3. Recognition: Water Festival Sponsors

MAYOR HARTKE invited Makayla Read, Water Conservation Coordinator, to accept.

MAKAYLA READ, Water Conservation Coordinator, expressed gratitude for the opportunity to recognize the 2024 Chandler Water Festival sponsors. For over 20 years, Chandler has hosted this annual event, offering a unique educational experience to approximately 1,200 fourth-grade students each year. The festival is one of the largest in Arizona, teaching students about groundwater, watersheds, the water cycle, and conservation through hands-on activities led by water professionals and community volunteers. Sponsorships play a vital role in supporting the event, helping to provide meals and snacks for over 200 volunteers. Without these dedicated volunteers, the festival would not be possible. Ms. Read thanked the 2024 sponsors and invited them to step forward for recognition: Achen Gardener Construction, Brown and Caldwell, Carollo Engineers, Entellus, Hazen and Sawyer, Jacobs, and Kitchell.

4. Recognition: HWAP Award (Healthy Arizona Worksites Program & Vitalant Blood Drive Awards)

MAYOR HARTKE invited Lisa Mainieri, Wellness & Engagement Coordinator, and Fernanda Acurio, Human Resources Manager, to accept.

LISA MAINIERI, Wellness & Engagement Coordinator, shared that the HWAP Award, Healthy Arizona Worksite Program Award, recognizes organizations for promoting wellness in the workplace. This award means that wellness efforts extend beyond the workplace and into the community. She emphasized that wellness is not treated as a standalone program but as a core part of Chandler's culture, "the Chandler way." The city integrates wellness into various initiatives, including water, facilities, and For Our City Day. Through collaboration across departments, the goal is to help employees understand how these efforts directly support their overall well-being.

FERNANDA ACURIO, Human Resources Manager, shared that the Vitalant Award primarily recognizes Lisa, as it is awarded to the coordinator responsible for organizing the effort. While hosting four or more blood drives annually is a key requirement, the award also recognizes the additional effort involved in outreach, engagement, and meeting participation goals. Lisa consistently goes above and beyond, working closely with employees, CLAW - ChanLife Ambassadors of Wellness committee to ensure strong engagement and collaboration. Her efforts help the city not only meet but exceed expectations for blood drive participation.

Unscheduled Public Appearances

BROOK BEAL, 85 W. Teakwood Pl., Chandler, AZ, requested updates on improvements and expressed skepticism about progress regarding police presence along the canals. He observed only one volunteer responding to a rider on the canal, which he saw again later, questioning the effectiveness of educational efforts. Mr. Beal opposed the city's canal expansion plans, including additions to Western Canal and a 1.5-mile Paseo Trail extension from Riggs Road to Hunt Highway, and plans to oppose unless enforcement improves. He cited issues with ATVs, motorbikes, and pocket rockets speeding up to 40 mph, and shared he has footage of a teenage boy at 45 mph on McQueen Road, captured on his dashcam.

TOBIAS GUISTO, 822 W. Armstrong, Chandler, AZ, shared that he recently learned about the League of Arizona Cities and Towns video, in which the Chandler video team composed a song. However, the singing was performed by generative artificial intelligence. Mr. Guisto expressed his deep disappointment with the city's actions, not only as a citizen and voter, but also as a singer and performer. He is pursuing acting in college and is worried that artificial intelligence might someday replace his career. As a graduate of Chandler High School, known for its involvement in the arts, Mr. Guisto feels that although Chandler prides itself on supporting the arts, it chose to disrespect local artists by opting for AI singing, citing cost and convenience as reasons. He also highlighted concerns about AI's environmental impact, noting Forbes' report that tech companies are increasing water usage due to AI development. Since Chandler is located in a drought-prone state affected by the severe drought of the Colorado River since 2000, he urges caution to avoid unnecessary water consumption. He emphasizes that AI could further deplete water resources worldwide. Mr. Guisto hopes the city will reconsider the use of generative AI and prioritize environmental and artistic integrity to protect the future.

COUNCILMEMBER HARRIS asked Acting City Manager John Pombier to explore the use of artificial intelligence in the city. He emphasized the importance of actively engaging with community members, particularly youth, to ensure that human experience is utilized to create meaningful outcomes, especially related to youth drama.

JOHN POMBIER, Acting City Manager, reported that a presentation on AI and future plans was held yesterday in his office. One initiative includes forming an advisory committee composed of local businesses and citizens to discuss policies and AI usage. It seems appropriate to consider adding a high school and college contingent to this group. Mr. Pombier emphasized that they are actively exploring these options.

BELINDA RUSSELL, 5850 W. Venus Way, Chandler, AZ, spoke as a community advocate, Mirada parent, and HOA president about concerns over the proposed Kyrene school closures and their impact on Chandler. She highlighted that Chandler would bear the largest share of closures, with three of seven Kyrene schools closing, displacing nearly 43% of Chandler's students—more than in neighboring Ahwatukee and Tempe. Ms. Russell emphasized that this is not just a school issue, but a city-wide concern. Strong neighborhood schools, such as Mirada, attract families, boost property values, and support economic growth. Closing top-performing schools could lower housing demand and property values, ultimately weakening Chandler's tax base. She also raised concerns about the district's plan to convert Manitas from an innovation academy to a traditional school, which will require significant investment, in contrast to the district's goal of saving money by closing schools. She pointed out that taxpayers will continue funding the district regardless of school closures, and Chandler risks losing out compared to neighboring areas. Ms. Russell urged consideration of how connected campuses, such as the linked middle and elementary schools, can be utilized efficiently in the future. She warned that the proposed closures threaten neighborhood stability and could drive families away from Chandler. She called on city leaders to advocate for Chandler, ensuring that fiscal responsibility, housing impacts, and neighborhood stability are carefully weighed before any final decisions are made.

MAYOR HARTKE asked staff to ensure the city receives accurate information regarding the new percentages, emphasizing the importance of having the correct data to inform the city's response.

He noted that Chandler is working to attract a younger community, and losing schools would be a setback to that goal. Mayor Hartke requested that staff provide details on where, how, and when the city can weigh in on the matter.

COUNCILMEMBER HARRIS shared that he attended a Kyrene School District meeting where a study group evaluated which schools might close due to declining enrollment from 20,000 to 12,000 students, resulting in excess space. He emphasized that Mirada is a top-rated school with excellent facilities and dedicated teachers. Councilmember Harris spoke with Kyrene School District President Walsh, who expressed openness to working with the city for support. He noted that Tempe councilmembers were also present at the meeting. President Walsh mentioned considering a new study to reduce the number of school closures from 10 to fewer. Following the meeting, there were about 92 public comments. Councilmember Harris encouraged continued collaboration with the district to support their decision-making, acknowledging that the city and school district are separate entities but can work together.

KELLY SCHWAB, City Attorney, stated that since the topic is not on the agenda, any further discussion would need to be scheduled as a future agenda item.

MAYOR HARTKE clarified that any comments should be directed as questions to staff.

COUNCILMEMBER HARRIS requested that staff contact the Kyrene School District and report back on ways the city can offer support.

COUNCILMEMBER ORLANDO shared that he has asked the city manager and team to review economic data from Economic Development and Planning & Zoning to identify additional information that could be shared with the consultant, aiming to provide a clearer perspective.

VICE MAYOR ELLIS suggested reaching out to the speaker, noting that people who are passionate about an issue often have solutions in mind as well. She emphasized that, due to limited time during meetings, it would be helpful to hear not just the problems but also the potential solutions. She added that for every problem presented, they expect to consider at least three possible solutions.

KRISTEN COX, 2208 W. Sagebrush Ct., Chandler, AZ, a resident of over 35 years and proud Arizona native, shared her deep connection to the community. Though she once considered leaving Chandler, she and her family have made it their home, raising two children here. Her brother and sister also live in Chandler, making it truly her community. She praised the city's growth and quality of life, recalling a memorable moment when her son met Mayor Hartke at the Orange Tree Park ribbon-cutting. Ms. Cox spoke in opposition to the proposed closure of three Chandler schools in the Kyrene District: Kyrene Traditional Academy, Mirada Elementary, and Pueblo Middle School. She noted that closing these schools would displace around 1,700 students, lower property values, and disrupt established neighborhoods. Though her family does not live in Mirada's attendance area, they chose the school for its strong reputation and positive enrollment trends. She urged city leaders to support keeping these successful schools open and invited them to attend upcoming school board meetings and community hearings on October 14 and November 6. Ms. Cox also expressed concern over the data and impact assessments used in the closure decisions, warning that the effects would be felt across the community for years to come. She offered to provide more information and thanked the Council for their time and consideration.
