

One Drum and A Dream:

A journey of building a life and business on based on a community drumming. A totally unexpected journey serpentine from corporate board rooms, the beaches of San Diego and Hawaii to the Sonoran Desert of the Valley of the Sun. All of that happened because of one drum and a dream.

Frank spent corporate lifetime in a variety of national and regional management roles and then used that experience and love of community building to do it on the patch of drum facilitation.