MAYOR HARTKE asked for clarification regarding the proposed ordinance; stating that scattering bird seed in public places or other places that would create a public nuisance would be illegal, while feeding birds in a private backyard would not be regulated, as the city code would not regulate private property.

ERICA BARBA, Neighborhood Preservation Senior Manager, said that was correct.

Police Department

Move City Council approve the renewal of fixed camera automated license plate reader (ALPR) solutions, from Flock Group, Inc., utilizing the City of Tempe Contract No. T21-119-01, in an amount not to exceed $153,400.

MAYOR HARTKE asked what happens to the data collected by Flock and how secure it is.

KATIE DAUPHINAIS, Flock Safety representative, answered that Chandler owns 100% of their data as stated in the contract. Flock does not sell or make any decisions with the data collected. She explained that Flock data is Criminal Justice Information Services (CJIS) compliant.

MAYOR HARTKE asked if there have been any breaches of data security.

MS. DAUPHINAIS explained that there have not been any hacks in the Flock system. Flock has partnered with the Miami-Dade Electronic Crimes task force to testify that Flock has not had any data breach. Flock partnered with Bishop Fox a consulting firm to conduct testing in the software to ensure system security.

MAYOR HARTKE asked how Chandler Flock data is shared with other communities.

MS. DENTON explained that Chandler shares data with other local, county, and state agencies within the state. Other agencies can request access to the Chandler system which then goes through the Police Department's approval process.

MAYOR HARTKE asked about how Chandler shares data with other agencies while maintaining ownership of the data.

MS. DENTON explained that police can search in a database for anyone in an agency that is accessible. The City of Chandler owns its own data and is responsible for the release of its own data.

MAYOR HARTKE asked for more information on the release of Chandler data to other agencies.

MS. DENTON explained that Chandler Police will choose specifically what information is able to be shared with other agencies. Often it is related to an active case, if Chandler has information related to a suspect or person of interest. Chandler can choose to share that with another agency or choose not to share information. Requests for information are handled on a case-by-case basis. Agencies still have access to the same databases nationally accessible such as the national crime database within Flock.

MAYOR HARTKE commented that other agencies do not have access to Chandler's information, they must make a request for information, which may or not be accepted.

MS. DENTON confirmed that Chandler can choose specifically what information is granted to other agencies.

MS. DAUPHINAIS added that Chandler's contract with Flock outlines the requirements and regulations for sharing its data. There are guardrails in place to ensure there is no unregulated access.

MAYOR HARTKE noted that if Chandler were to choose to share data with another agency, the data shared would be specifically selected and shared, rather than full access to all Chandler data.

MS. DENTON explained that other agencies have general search access similar to national database searches for stolen vehicles or warrants, but more detailed information would need to be requested and then released by Chandler. Outside agencies do not receive full access to all Chandler data.

MAYOR HARTKE asked if another agency would have access to photographs of the plate if a license plate is triggered but not access to Chandler information to browse for that information.

MS. DENTON noted that the data of the vehicle would be searchable in the national database contributed to by police officers collecting data or making a traffic stop. The Flock component of the investigation would be a picture of its location.

VICE MAYOR ENCINAS asked what agencies currently have access to Chandler data.

MS. DENTON said currently, Chandler shares information with only agencies within the state of Arizona including local municipal agencies, county agencies, campus police departments, and state agencies. Chandler is not sharing information outside of Arizona.

VICE MAYOR ENCINAS asked to confirm that Chandler has not shared any information with federal law enforcement agencies.

MS. DENTON noted that Chandler has only shared information with the US Marshals Office as part of a fugitive task force.

VICE MAYOR ENCINAS asked how Flock data access is audited.

MS. DENTON said that the Police Department does 30-day audits. There is also a built-in flagging system that will notify for certain criteria, such as if a license plate is searched too frequently.

COUNCILMEMBER ORLANDO asked what kind of relationship does Chandler have with the US Marshals Office.

MS. DENTON said the Chandler Police Department participates in a task force with the US Marshals Office. Due to the daily cooperation between the agencies, the department is willing to share information with them as part of an operational day-to-day need.

COUNCILMEMBER ORLANDO asked what specific information does the US Marshals Office request.

MS. DENTON answered that the requests are related to fugitives.

COUNCILMEMBER ORLANDO asked if any information outside the fugitive taskforce is requested, is the data shared.

MS. DENTON said she is not aware of any previous request by the US Marshals Office for additional information, but she would confirm and share that information with Council.

COUNCILMEMBER ORLANDO asked how Flock builds its firewalls.

MS. DAUPHINAIS said members of the Flock IT team can provide more specific details but explained that Flock engineers follow specifications of each agency's consent to share information.

COUNCILMEMBER ORLANDO asked if Flock has levels of security on its software to ensure secure information.

MS. DAUPHINAIS said yes.

COUNCILMEMBER ORLANDO asked if Arizona state law is changing relating to using automated license plate recognition.

MS. DAUPHINAIS said Arizona state legislators are still in session, and no bills have passed or been signed by the governor that relate to automated license plate recognition.

COUNCILMEMBER ORLANDO asked if there are any bills related to automated license plate recognition under consideration currently.

MS. DAUPHINAIS stated she is unaware of the specifics, but more information could be provided to Council.

COUNCILMEMBER ORLANDO noted the importance of local control and requested further information on the proposed legislation regarding automated license plate recognition. He asked what the retention of license plate data within Flock is.

MS. DENTON answered the retention is 30 days.

COUNCILMEMBER ORLANDO asked why the retention is 30 days.

MS. DENTON said it is a general practice in Arizona.

COUNCILMEMBER ORLANDO asked if the data captured is real time data, why is it kept for 30 days.

MS. DENTON answered that there are some times when an investigation is under way that the real time operations center may not be open, or police may not be aware of as license plate or vehicle involved in a case. When a detective is assigned to a case, they may want to search Chandler data for any involved entries.

COUNCILMEMBER ORLANDO asked what happens to the data after 30 days.

MS. DENTON said it is automatically purged.

COUNCILMEMBER POSTON asked how locations of automated license plate readers are determined.

MS. DENTON answered that the primary focus was on major throughfares, high traffic areas, and commercial corridors. The Police Department collaborated between multiple units to determine where crime is most likely to happen, and the most likely places to apprehend a criminal due to vehicle specific follow up information.

COUNCILMEMBER POSTON asked if Chandler's contract with Flock includes a provision that Chandler's data cannot be sold.

MS. DAUPHINAIS confirmed that Chandler's contract states that data will not be sold by Flock.

COUNCILMEMBER POSTON asked if Flock had ever been hacked or experienced any other type of data breach.

MS. DAUPHINAIS said there have been no instances of concern due to Flock employees, due to the levels of security to access data collected through automated license plate readers. It requires a high level of security to access real data.

COUNCILMEMBER POSTON asked what options Chandler has if the contract was found to have been violated.

KELLY SCHWAB, City Attorney, explained that Chandler has the ability to terminate the contract, recover damages, insurance protections, and indemnification from Flock. The contract contains provisions to provide protections the city in the event it is needed.

COUNCILMEMBER HARRIS commented that he is aware this is a public trust issue for this tool which supports law enforcement. He asked for clarification if data is used by Immigration and Customs Enforcement, through connections with the US Marshals Office.

BRYAN CHAPMAN, Police Chief, explained that the Marshals task force is guided to look for violent offenders and fugitives. Even though the US Marshals Service is a federal agency, they are not able to perform searches for another federal agency. The Marshals Service can only search based on Chandler detectives' cases regarding violent offenders and fugitives. Immigration and Customs Enforcement has never submitted a request for Chandler data. He acknowledged community concerns about the surveillance tool. The Police Department upholds confidentiality in law enforcement systems including CJIS compliance and audits.

COUNCILMEMBER HARRIS asked how the software is protected from outside access.

CHIEF CHAPMAN said the Flock system is unable to be searched without a cause. Its use must be related to a law enforcement purpose, which is captured in any audit. When agencies use Flock systems, they search for only vehicles of interest. No facial recognition is captured. Any search conducted through the Flock system is trackable and must be for a law enforcement purpose. If a member of the Police Department was found to have violated or abused confidentiality, they would be terminated and would no longer be allowed to be a peace officer in the state of Arizona. The Police Department understands that public trust is earned every day; if there was abuse of the system, it would not be tolerated.

COUNCILMEMBER HARRIS asked how privacy is upheld within Flock with its employees.

CHIEF CHAPMAN reiterated that Flock is a vendor of automated license plate readers and the data collected by the cameras belongs to the city.

MS. DAUPHINAIS agreed with the Chief's comments stating that Chandler owns 100% of their data and Flock employees do not have access to the license plate data.

COUNCILMEMBER HARRIS inquired about security clearance and asked what is Flock's policy and what levels of security clearance do employees undergo.

MS. DAUPHINAIS responded about Flock's general hiring practices such as background checks and the interview process. She noted that she would follow up regarding specific requirements for the engineering team.

COUNCILMEMBER HARRIS emphasized the importance of public trust and involving the community. He expressed concerns about any misuse of the data. Councilmember Harris asked for information on company policies.

MAYOR HARTKE asked about resolution of the inquiries.

MS. DENTON answered that the alerts that come through are verified to see if they are still valid, and that all alerts are vetted.

MAYOR HARTKE asked to be provided how many cases for a time period to get an indication of the effectiveness.

MS. DENTON stated she would provide that.

COUNCILMEMBER ORLANDO thanked the Chief for the information and his continued efforts to keep Chandler safe.

VICE MAYOR ENCINAS asked Ms. Dauphinais what capabilities does Chandler have to ensure that data is not being accessed by anyone outside the city.

MS. DAUPHINAIS shared information about agency and organizational audits.

VICE MAYOR ENCINAS inquired if the audits would show that only Chandler users were accessing or would it indicate outside users.

MS. DAUPHINAIS said it would show outside agency users if the agency had a sharing agreement.

VICE MAYOR ENCINAS asked what Flock has done to enhance internal security.

MS. DAUPHINAIS provided information about Flock's auditing system and how they have enhanced security to prevent misuse. She noted that any searches that are anomalies outside of the case system will be flagged.

VICE MAYOR ENCINAS asked what happens if a user is terminated and ends up working in another state, how is access tracked.

MS. DAUPHINAIS responded that would be a specific department requirement and that it would show up in their employment history. It would be dependent on the other agency that is hiring them.

VICE MAYOR ENCINAS asked if there was an internal system to monitor something like that or if it was just up to the hiring agency.

MS. DAUPHINAIS shared that since every agency owns their own data, they handle their own audits as well.

COUNCILMEMBER HARRIS asked the Chief what happens if someone from Chandler inappropriately accesses the system.

CHIEF CHAPMAN responded that any breach in confidentiality and law enforcement sensitive information would result in termination.

COUNCILMEMBER HARRIS asked what happens if the system was accessed related to searches for significant others.

CHIEF CHAPMAN responded that would be a violation of the confidentiality agreements regarding the use of law enforcement sensitive information and that would result in termination.

MS. DAUPHINAIS added that when a search is conducted on a license plate it requires specific information.
