WORK SESSION

There are many case types, like rezonings and special use requests/modifications, that the commission hears frequently. There are other cases, including tentative plat approval and master development plans, that the commission hears less frequently. During the first meeting of 2022, staff will provide a brief overview of each of these case types and their associated processes to help prepare the commission for upcoming dockets. There are no proposed changes or requests associated with this item, it is strictly for discussion.
