Pearl has made a meaningful and positive impact to the local community during her 30 years at the Tuba City Public Library. Pearl is committed to her work and is resourceful in carrying out her daily duties following the protocols as a City of Flagstaff employee. Pearl is an expert in materials procurement including many popular Navajo and Hopi book titles for the library that are in great demand among her patrons. She has excellent rapport among her staff who work together as a team to provide daily assistance to library patrons in the form of circulation, reference, computer assistance and programming. Pearl served an integral role during the recent library building renovation helping with the new design and layout of the furnishings to better accommodate library users. During the pandemic she devoted her time to improve the collection holdings while providing patrons curbside service to library materials.

Pearl is an asset to the City of Flagstaff having maintained steadfast dedication to the library, staff and local community of Tuba City throughout her library tenure.

Police Chief Dan Musselman is celebrating his 27th year with the City of Flagstaff. He has served in the roles of Police Officer, Corporal/Detective, Lieutenant, and Deputy Police Chief prior to being promoted to Police Chief in December of 2020.

During this past year Police Chief Musselman has been working hard to promote employment with the Flagstaff Police Department by introducing new tools and techniques to recruiting new officers and working with staff on competitive compensation, a local police academy, an updated contract with High Country Humane, noise ordinance specifications, and working with local partners to provide the best level of service possible to the community and its visitors.

We appreciate Chief Musselman's dedication and service!

In celebrating the years of service that Matt has brought to the Recreation team, one word comes to mind: thoughtful. Matt is a thoughtful, energetic, inclusive team coworker who has spearheaded many programs and opportunities at the city for our community members. Some of Matt's impressive accomplishments include running the City's Therapeutic Recreation program for many years, working closely with Special Olympics and of course managing the Joe C. Montoya Community and Senior Center. Matt's dedication to the City and Recreation the past 29-years are one of the reasons why PROSE exist, as Matt is a PRO.

Geneva started with the City 27 years ago and has served the City working in the mailroom, the old warehouse stockroom, Community Development, and now Information Technology.

Geneva received a bachelor's in computer information systems and currently works as the IT Helpdesk Specialist, where, amongst many other things, she coordinates the PC replacement process for the city.

Geneva is extremely proud of her son Zach who graduated Coconino High School earlier this year and is currently attending the University of Arizona on a full academic scholarship!

Paul shared Geneva is an integral part of the City of Flagstaff's Help Desk Team. She focuses on the PC Replacement cycle, ensuring old devices get replaced with newer, higher performing units. This crucial component helps support IT's mission of making everyone's job easier tomorrow, than it was today. Congratulations Geneva on your 27 years of service!

Geneva shared the following quote "Happiness often sneaks in through a door you didn't know you left open." (John Barrymore)
