A TRUE FAMILY TRADITION SINCE THE '50S

Back in the '50s my parents loved to entertain. On weekends, they would use every table in the apartment, throw a large red and white checkered tablecloth over the dining room table and invite friends and family over for dinner. To an enthusiastic crowd, Dad would leave his seat at any of his honored family dishes as well as recipes he was developing, most of which required outstanding reviews. Dad's pasta dishes were top dog, but his pizzas were the crowning achievement. My dad truly practiced his simple philosophy about life: the key to happiness is friends, good food and more.

They have since passed away, but their passion lives on in our hearts. They were well-loved, thought of nightly, and we miss them greatly.

Years later, I cleaned out their garage and found close to a thousand assorted plates, wine glasses and cups (none of which matched) that made me think he'd been collecting them for years in hopes of opening his own restaurant. I was kind of shocked.

It was then I met some of the many people who have been inspired by the Oregano's family tradition. And just as you know, the company's name is Oregano's Italian. It's a true family tradition for every Oregano's.
