Cultivating Better Play

The golf course sprigging project was completed in early June. Approximately 100 yards in length by 30 yards in width of the fairway on Hole #6 was sprigged. Hole #6 has historically experienced the poorest fairway conditions on the course, and this improvement is expected to significantly enhance turf quality and address the long-standing issues in this area.

Strong Roots, Smooth Putts

The fairways and tees were spiked, and all greens underwent their first aeration of the summer in early May. The turf responded exceptionally well, and a second aeration is scheduled for early September. In addition, the organic liquid fertilizer program has produced excellent results on the fairways and will continue to play a key role in improving overall turf health and long-term course conditions.

Growing the Greens

Weed control efforts have been aggressively implemented throughout the course using both hand spraying and spray rig applications in larger areas. These treatments will promote the establishment of new turfgrass in bare areas, allowing healthy turf to fill in and naturally suppress future weed growth.
