Mr. Kite says for this instance, the additional documents that may be needed will not be needed. He still supplied us with a copy of the MLA and MSA, which are attached for your convenience.

Irma,

As I read that sentence:

"The order process is initiated when Esri receives an original purchase order or some form of advance payment. Several additional documents (e.g., Master License Agreement, credit application, Tax Exemption Certificate) may be required to complete the order process."

It says these documents "may" be required. In this instance we will not be needing them.

THE SCIENCE OF WHERE™

Because they are not needed, do you approve as to form?

I have reviewed the attached agreement and note that it makes reference to additional agreements that will be required to be signed (Master License Agreement and Professional Services Agreement). For that reason, we would recommend reviewing those prior to providing approval on this particular document.

If you should have any questions or need anything further, please feel free to contact our office.

Thank you,
