To Whom it May Concern:

Canine officer Endy has had hip problems for several years and they continue to worsen. For the past several annual and semi annual exams we have not tested his hips because of the pain. Endy tires easily from the pain and is unable to physically jump up on objects well anymore. He should be on pain medications and joint supplements to ease his pain. The medications necessary need to be long term. I recommend that he retire since he is unable to physically perform his job.

Please contact me with any questions.

Sincerely,
