Ms. Garcia,

The Avenu Government Systems, LLC.'s (Avenu) Juror and eJuror software allows the County to automate its jury selection process. Avenu's Data Merge process provides updates of all juror names/addresses for use by Hidalgo County. Avenu also provides Technical Support services for both Jury and eJuror, including Modifications/update to the jury summons for special jury selections such as special venire, all licensed to Hidalgo County for the purpose of streamlining and maintaining the integrity of its jury selection process.

The software and related program documentation, and all technical aspects of the software solution constitute valuable intellectual property belonging to Avenu. Avenu makes this intellectual property available to customers on a licensed use basis and does not release this proprietary information except on a "need-to-know" basis to those who have entered into appropriate non-disclosure obligations.

Any third-party firms retained by the County to provide computer consulting services are independent of Avenu and are not Avenu approved vendors or agents. Avenu shall not be liable for nor bound by any acts of any such third-party firms and shall not warranty any services provided by any third-party firms not approved by Avenu.

Due to the proprietary nature of the Avenu Juror software, only an Avenu approved Interactive Voice Response System (IVR) can write information back to the database. Avenu works closely with the IVR vendor to ensure that the IVR integrates seamlessly with Avenu Juror software.

Should you have any questions or require additional information regarding this document, I can be reached at 1-315-627-3011.

Sincerely,
