Dear Tim,

After more lengthy discussion about street names we would like to propose the following names for Riverstone.

- Riverstone instead of Rabbit
- Quintana instead of Quagga
- Snowy Owl instead of Sloth
- Tiger to remain

We understand and respect emergency response teams' preference to follow the grid to assist in response times, so we have worked diligently to come up with names that will conform to the grid by adhering to the alphabet. None of the recommended names are being used anywhere in Anoka County.

We understand that Rabbit has been utilized already in this section, but would like the Council to consider Riverstone instead. The "R" road is an internal road to the development and doesn't directly connect to any roads externally.

We have searched endlessly for an animal name that starts with "Q". None exist that aren't as peculiar as Quagga. We submitted Quail and Quartz previously and they are already being used in Anoka County. We would like to submit Quintana as our "Q" street. Quintana is an island in Antarctica.

Snowy Owl would be our choice for "S". We understand there is some history in Ramsey surrounding the Snowy Owl and would like to incorporate the name at Riverstone.

Although Tiger would not be our first choice for a "T" name, we are not proposing any changes.

Regards,
