

RESILIENCE

Energy Infrastructure and Resources

- Local governments in the seven-county metropolitan area are required by state law to include an element in their Plan for protection and development of access to direct sunlight for solar energy systems.