SWAT TEAM

Training:

Two trainings were conducted this month on August 13th and August 27th.

On August 13th the team covered operational planning and callout procedures. The day culminated in a mock callout at Tabernacle Baptist Church. The team performed well during the training.

On August 27th the team completed the selection process for Fall 2026 SWAT Selection. Five Officers were selected. We also trained on live fire entries in the afternoon.

Call-Outs:

The team was extremely busy this month. We had a total of seven activations with one emergency callout, five pre-planned high-risk search warrants, and one cancelled because patrol cleared the house while SWAT was en-route.

On August 5th, the Roswell SWAT Team assisted CID with the execution of a high-risk search warrant at 6223 SE Main St. in reference to an aggravated assault investigation involving Manny Trujillo Jr., who was believed to be in possession of a handgun used during the incident. SWAT established containment around the residence and utilized the Pit-Bull armored vehicle to breach the perimeter fence and position near the primary entrance. Verbal call-outs were initiated, resulting in Trujillo exiting the residence and being taken into custody without incident. After a light was observed being activated inside the residence, raising the possibility of additional occupants, call-outs continued and a diversionary device was deployed near the entrance. Multiple dogs were also observed inside the residence. A female occupant subsequently arrived and was permitted to enter the residence and safely remove the dogs. SWAT personnel then conducted a systematic clearing of the residence and located no additional occupants. The scene was subsequently turned over to CID for execution of the search warrant and continuation of the investigation.

On August 6th, a SWAT activation was initiated in reference to Manuel DeLaRosa, who was believed to be barricaded inside a residence at 701 S. Missouri St. DeLaRosa was wanted for Aggravated Battery with a Firearm and was believed to potentially be armed. Patrol established containment and attempted to gain compliance while Crisis Negotiations Team personnel attempted to establish communication. After a search warrant was obtained and continued attempts to contact DeLaRosa were unsuccessful, an NFDD was deployed as an attention-getting and show-of-force tactic. SWAT subsequently deployed CS gas through an open window in an effort to gain voluntary compliance. Due to information indicating DeLaRosa may possess a fully automatic firearm, an unmanned aircraft system (UAS) was deployed to obtain additional intelligence on the interior of the residence prior to entry. After the majority of the residence was cleared using the UAS and visual observation, SWAT personnel conducted a systematic entry and clearance of the residence. DeLaRosa was not located and was believed to have fled through an east-side window prior to SWAT's arrival. The residence was cleared and the scene was turned over to patrol personnel.

On August 11th, the Roswell SWAT Team assisted CID with the execution of a high-risk search warrant at 6414 Houma Rd. in Dexter in reference to an investigation involving Ramon Madrid Jr. and Jesse Madrid. Both subjects were believed to be involved in a shooting at Planet Fitness and were believed to have used rifles during the incident. The operation was planned utilizing the Pit-Bull armored vehicle and two reaction teams, with the surrounding structures being cleared prior to the primary residence. Upon arrival, SWAT utilized the Pit-Bull to approach the property while maintaining overwatch and security. React 2 systematically cleared the structures surrounding the primary residence while React 1 maintained security on the primary residence. One male subject was detained during the initial movement. SWAT subsequently cleared the primary residence, locating an elderly, wheelchair-bound female inside. Operators maintained security around the female while the remainder of the residence and surrounding structures were cleared. No additional occupants were located, and the female was turned over to CID personnel. The SWAT operation was completed without incident and the scene was turned over to CID for continuation of the investigation and execution of the search warrant. During the operation we attempted to use the MRAP and it appears to have locked up several gears. It was taken to Hicks for diagnosis.

On August 18th, the Roswell SWAT Team assisted CID with the execution of a high-risk search warrant at 330 E. 6th St. in reference to an investigation involving Aggravated Assault with a Firearm, Criminal Sexual Penetration, and suspected narcotics activity. Investigative information indicated the suspect, Javier Gurrola, could be armed with a rifle. The operation was planned to include a knock-and-announce followed by a breach-and-hold tactic prior to entry. SWAT utilized the Pit-Bull armored vehicle to approach the residence, and operators breached the security door using a Halligan tool. As SWAT personnel prepared to make entry, Gurrola opened the interior door and was escorted from the residence without incident. A female occupant was also located inside and safely escorted from the residence. SWAT personnel then conducted a systematic clearing of the structure and located no additional occupants. Once the residence was secured, the scene was turned over to CID for execution of the search warrant. Gurrola was subsequently turned over to CID personnel.

On August 19th, the Roswell SWAT Team assisted CID with the execution of a high-risk search warrant at 407 W. Albuquerque St. as part of an ongoing homicide investigation. Gavin Rascon, a person of interest in the investigation, was believed to reside at the residence and was reported to potentially possess multiple firearms. Due to the nature of the investigation and the potential presence of firearms, SWAT was requested to assist with the operation. The team utilized a surround-and-call-out tactic in an effort to gain voluntary compliance and safely remove occupants from the residence. Upon arrival, the Pit-Bull armored vehicle was positioned near the residence and containment was established. Officers utilized the Pit-Bull's public address system to direct the occupants to exit, resulting in three individuals voluntarily exiting and being taken into custody without incident. SWAT personnel then conducted a deliberate entry and protective sweep of the residence. No additional occupants were located. The scene was subsequently turned over to CID for execution of the search warrant.

On August 25th, the Roswell SWAT Team conducted a high-risk search warrant operation targeting Jimmy Almanza at 203 E. Frazier St. Almanza was a convicted felon with a significant history of violent offenses and was believed to be in possession of multiple firearms and body armor. Information also indicated Almanza had made threats toward his wife and law enforcement. The operational plan called for surveillance of the residence, detention of an occupant leaving the property, and a subsequent surround-and-call-out in an effort to isolate Almanza and reduce the potential risk to uninvolved persons. During the operation, Almanza left the residence before the planned call-out could be initiated. A traffic stop was attempted, but Almanza failed to yield. SWAT personnel utilizing the Pit-Bull armored vehicle were able to stop Almanza's vehicle after it made contact with the Pit-Bull, and Almanza was taken into custody without further incident. SWAT personnel then proceeded to the residence, established containment, and attempted verbal call-outs. After receiving no response, a forced entry was conducted and the residence was systematically cleared. No additional occupants were located. The scene was subsequently turned over to SID personnel for execution of the search warrants and collection of evidence.

On August 31, the Roswell SWAT Team conducted a high risk search warrant operation targeting Sean Caraska at the residence of 802 S Lea Ave. Caraska was a suspect in the recent homicides being investigated by RPD, CCSO, and FBI. Caraska was believed to be in possession of at least one firearm. Caraska does not have a violent history, however due to the nature of the crimes being investigated the SWAT team would be used to secure the residence. Prior to the deployment of the team, CID and SID completed surveillance and determined Sean was more than likely the only individual at the residence. The operation plan was to complete a surround and call out from the armored vehicle. Due to close proximity to Missouri Avenue Elementary School, Sgt. Rodriguez was notified to place the school in shelter in place procedures. The team arrived to the residence at approximately 1420 hours to begin call outs. Caraska did respond to call out procedures quickly. Caraska was compliant with officers and was detained without further incident. The scene was turned over to CID, CCSO, and FBI for the search and collection of evidence.

Accomplishments:

The SWAT Team was restructured with new standards for entry onto the team, a dedicated Operator development process, and additional requirements based on roles on the team. Five Officers were selected as SWAT candidates and will begin training. One officer was also selected to begin training as the next sniper.

Plans for Next Month:

SWAT will staff the National Championship Air Races and begin their annual SWAT week at the end of the month.

Equipment Update:

The sniper rifle was received and issued.

- The RTCC Operator was requested to assist a responding officer with a felony fraud investigation. The responding officer provided the RTCC Operator with a photograph of the suspect vehicle and requested assistance in attempting to locate the vehicle through the department's Automated License Plate Recognition (ALPR) system. An initial search of the ALPR system for the time period surrounding the incident did not produce any results matching the suspect vehicle. The RTCC Operator expanded the search timeframe and conducted additional searches using vehicle descriptors. This expanded search resulted in the suspect vehicle being located on the ALPR system. The vehicle information and associated descriptors were provided to the responding officer, who confirmed that the vehicle matched the suspect vehicle involved in the incident. The responding officer subsequently provided the RTCC Operator with the registered owner's address and requested drone surveillance of the location. The RTCC Operator conducted drone surveillance and confirmed that the suspect vehicle was present at the registered owner's residence. Based on the information gathered during the investigation, the responding officer obtained a search warrant for the residence and vehicle. During execution of the search warrant, stolen credit cards connected to the fraud investigation were located inside the suspect vehicle. Investigators also located clothing inside the residence that matched the clothing worn by the suspect during the commission of the crime, as captured on surveillance video. The suspect was subsequently located hiding in the attic of the residence and was taken into custody. This investigation demonstrates the effectiveness of coordinated RTCC support, ALPR technology, and drone operations in assisting officers with identifying and locating a suspect vehicle, developing investigative leads, and ultimately locating evidence and apprehending the suspect.

- The RTCC operator was dispatched to assist with a report of a physical domestic disturbance involving a vehicle traveling at a high rate of speed and swerving on the roadway, with the CP following behind the vehicle. The RTCC operator was able to locate the involved vehicle and provide officers with the vehicle's description and identifying information. The operator-maintained surveillance and provided real-time overwatch to officers as they located and conducted a traffic stop on the vehicle. While officers were conducting the traffic stop, the RTCC operator utilized available technology and resources to further corroborate the CPs statements. The operator retrieved video footage from a nearby intersection, ALPR information, and video from the Recreation Center. The collected footage showed the involved vehicle engaging in the same behavior described by the complainant, including traveling at a high rate of speed and swerving on the roadway. The additional video evidence also showed the complainant's vehicle following behind the involved vehicle, further corroborating CPs account and providing officers with additional evidence to support the investigation.
- The RTCC operator was requested to launch the drone in response to a motorcycle that had fled from a LEO traffic stop. A unit was able to maintain visual contact with the motorcycle and provided the RTCC operator with updates on its direction of travel. The unit provided the motorcycle's last known location and DOT before losing visual contact. While searching the area for the motorcycle, the RTCC operator observed a motorcycle leaving the Walmart parking lot and entering the main roadway. The motorcycle continued southbound at a high rate of speed while swerving in and out of traffic. The RTCC operator called out the motorcycle's movements until it turned into Caliche's with two other motorcycles. The RTCC operator maintained visual contact with the subjects while providing responding officers with the location of the motorcycles, the number of subjects, and descriptions. When officers arrived on scene, the RTCC operator returned to the location of the original traffic stop and obtained traffic camera footage. The footage was provided to officers on scene and was used to confirm that the motorcycle was the same vehicle involved in the initial pursuit. The driver of the motorcycle was apprehended and subsequently released to his parents.
- The RTCC operator was asked to assist with researching vehicles related to a homicide investigation. The operator entered the license plate numbers for two vehicles believed to be associated with the investigation into the ALPR database and generated reports for both vehicles. A third vehicle was also being researched; however, no license plate information was available. The RTCC operator reviewed a photograph of the vehicle provided by a detective and used the vehicle's identifiable characteristics to conduct a search through the ALPR database.

The vehicle was subsequently located, allowing investigators to obtain the license plate information for further investigation.

- The RTCC operator was notified of a stolen vehicle through the ALPR system and immediately notified patrol. While the drone was being launched, another ALPR hit was received for the same stolen vehicle. The RTCC operator updated patrol with the new location. While searching the area, an officer located the stolen vehicle at a nearby gas station. The vehicle was recovered and subsequently returned to the original owner.
