

State of Texas
County of Williamson
Know all men by these presents:

THAT ON THIS, the 15th day of September, 2009, the Commissioners' Court of Williamson County, Texas met in a duly called session at the Courthouse in Georgetown, and at said meeting, among other business, the court approved the following:

A donation to the Williamson County Memorial Tree Program.

A living memorial has been donated in honor of:

Rex Hawes

and a Pecan Tree will be planted at the Berry Springs Park & Preserve
1801 C.R. 152, in Georgetown, Texas.

With special thanks to:

The Williamson County Commissioner's Court on behalf of the Williamson County Employees

"He who plants a tree plants hope."

Lacy Larcom

The Commissioners' Court of Williamson County and its citizens hope that you find solace in the fact that this lovely tree, symbolic of strength and future, will grace our Berry Springs Park and Preserve.

Dan A. Gattis, County Judge

Attest:

Nancy E. Rister, County Clerk
