RE: Letter of Commitment for UC Davis' Yolo community based virtual power plant grant application to the California Energy Commission

To Whom it May Concern,

This letter is written to confirm the match commitment from the County of Yolo for the project "Yolo community based virtual power plant" led by UC Davis in response to the California Energy Commission Virtual Power Plant Approaches for Demand Flexibility (VPP-FLEX) EPIC program. This project is in alignment with the County's Climate Action and Adaptation Plan to participate in demand response programs (Decarbonize Energy and Buildings and Increase Energy Efficiency - Measure EB 4)

The County will commit $50,000 in cost share annually, $200,000 total, to this project to be used for direct and indirect costs incurred during the period beginning January 1, 2025 and ending March 31, 2029. Matched in-kind costs will support $200,000 in personnel salary and benefits in the form managing the County's demand response when needed during periods of peak power, access to several County facilities, access to energy data, and access to county facilities control systems.

We guarantee the availability of the funds for the project without limit or reservation. If these funds are significantly reduced or lost we will seek a redistribution of the annual cost share to achieve the total project cost share, and/or identify and apply additional in-kind contributions.

Respectfully,

Ryan Pistochini
