To the Clerk and full Board of Yolo County

I implore you to extend the moratorium now in place in the Hungry Hallow area.

It is one of your responsibilities to protect County ground water, especially in areas historically where it is long understood that the water is limited and deep.

To let international companies come in with vast funding, drill wells deeper than any reasonable farmer would allow to allow the violation of our resources that support more reasonable family farms. The county loses way more than it gains by letting this happen. Stand up for the county and its residents and farmer/ranchers. Be strong in the face of those who think you should bend to them.

We are watching. We will attend.

Who will you side with?

More time and study to understand better the impacts. Make them wait until this is done at the very least.

Do the right thing.
